Applying for a MINOR VARIANCE
From the Provisions
Of the Zoning By-law

TIPS THAT CAN HELP

Review the Official Plan Provisions for your Area

Official Plans are local land use planning documents adopted by the municipality and approved by the Province. They reflect provincial and local planning issues and, among other things, establish policies for lot creation.

The permission you are seeking must conform to the spirit and intent of the Official Plan, and must also be consistent with the Provincial Policy Statement (established under Section 3 of the Planning Act).

Review the Zoning By-law Provisions for your Area

The Zoning By-law sets out general property use rules, as well as the permitted uses and lot size and set-back regulations for various zones. Your application for a minor variance is for permission to deviate from any of these requirements in a “minor” way.

Whether or not something is “minor” is not easily defined. Where the deviation is from a measurement, it is not determined solely by the percentage of variation that is being sought.

Asking to have a use permitted which is not permitted in the zone for your property is not a minor variance – in those circumstances, a re-zoning application is required.

The best rule of thumb when considering whether or not something is “minor” is to consider its impact on the neighbouring property owners. If there will be a negative impact, the variance is likely not “minor” and a re-zoning application should be considered.

The Application Process

The Committee of Adjustment will convene a hearing to consider your application. This is a public process. The Municipality is required to give notice of a complete application to persons and agencies that may have an interest in the variance requested. This can occur in 2 ways – either by mail or personal service to all landowners and condominium corporations within 60 metres of the land in question; or by publishing a notice in the local newspaper.

The notice and circulation of the application will be done promptly once the application is complete. Some agencies may require site visits to formulate their responses, and will require the time necessary to do that.

When a decision is made, notice of that decision is circulated to the same persons and agencies that received notice of the original application, as well as any other person who formally requested notice. Any of those people may appeal the decision to the Ontario Municipal Board. The applicant may also appeal the decision to the Ontario Municipal Board – this may occur if the application is denied or if there is concern or disagreement about any of the imposed conditions. Appeals must be submitted within 20 days of receipt of the notice of decision. If no one appeals within that time frame, then the decision becomes final. If there is an appeal, the matter is in the hands of the Ontario Municipal Board. A hearing will be convened for the Board to hear proponents and opponents of the matter, and the Board will make a decision that replaces the one made by the Committee of Adjustment. That process can take a significant amount of time to be completed.

INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS – PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

- 1 The application fee is $1,275.00 per application.
- 2 Applications may only be submitted by property owners or their duly authorized agents. If an agent represents the owner, written authorization from the owner must be provided. Agents include professionals such as lawyers, paralegals or planning consultants, or any other person (such as a relative) who speaks on behalf of the owner.
- 3 All applications must be complete and must have original signatures. Applications must be signed in front of a Commissioner for Taking Affidavits in Ontario. Commissioning services are available at the Municipal Administrative office. The Planning Act does not allow the Municipality to accept signatures from persons holding Power of Attorney over Property for others. If you do not know the answer to any of the questions, Municipal staff may be able to assist, however, Municipal staff cannot fill in your application for you.
An application will only be processed once it is fully complete. Municipal staff cannot accept an application if there are blank spots or signatures missing.
Please ensure that everything is filled out and signed/commissioned before the application is filed with the office.
- 4 A sketch must accompany the application. Measurements on the sketch must correspond to the measurements indicated in the application. Photocopies of a property survey (if one exists) should form the base document for the sketch. If no survey is available, a detailed hand-drawn sketch, as close as possible to scale, is acceptable. All buildings must be on the diagram and all neighbouring properties must be shown, including buildings on those properties (to the best of the Applicant's ability). Where the property has variations in topography, contour lines should be included to illustrate hills, valleys, cliffs, fields, streams, rivers, etc. Forested areas must be designated. ALL relevant and required information is presented on ONE sketch only. The maximum size for any sketch is 8.5 inches by 14 inches ("legal sized" paper).
